Employment Programs Include:

Targeted Wage Subsidies

Encourage employers to hire individuals whom they would not normally hire in the absence of a subsidy. Subsidies to a participant's wages help to defray the costs associated with an individual's orientation to the work site and the job.

Ontario Self-Employment Benefit

Assists individuals currently in receipt of EI benefits or have received EI in the past 3 years or 5 years for maternity benefits, to create jobs for themselves by offering income support, advice concerning accessing capital, coaching and technical assistance while they launch their own business.

Ontario Job Creation Partnerships

Provides individuals currently in receipt of EI benefits or have received EI in the past 3 years or 5 years for maternity benefits, with opportunities to gain work experience leading to on-going employment. It involves broad community participation, planning and agreement in the creation of sustainable employment strategy.

Ontario Labour Market Partnerships

Encourage and support employers, employee and/or employer associations and communities to improve their capacity for dealing with local human resource requirements.

Job Opportunities for Youth Program

Employers are subsidized a portion of the wages to hire a young person (15-30 years) for a permanent full-time position.

Employment Assisted Services

For unemployed individuals they provide employment related activities to encourage a quick return to work for the clients; i.e. Job Finding Clubs, Resource Centres and Counselling.
