Mississauga Fire Chief Gordon Bentley is the new president of the Canadian Association of Fire Chiefs.

Bentley, a longtime Streetsville resident, was elected to the professional fraternity's top post August 8 in Halifax. He will represent the views of fire chiefs across Canada on national issues dealing with fire services. The group provides advice to various levels of government on issues such as fire protection required through building codes, as well as many other issues.

Bentley has been involved with the Canadian association serving on various committees since he became the city's fire chief in 1979. He is the first Mississauga chief to head the national group, and will serve a one-year term.
