Frank Dale to bid for Ward 4 seat

A Cooksville resident has been the first to officially declare himself a candidate for the Ward 4 seat on Mississauga city council.

Frank Dale, 33, an employee with the Region of Peel, announced his candidacy yesterday.

Dale's work in the community includes serving as chairman of the Mississauga Valley Community Association, as a member of the fundraising committee for the Mississauga Valley Community Centre, a member of the Mississauga public works Committee and the Ward 4 Council.

He has also been active in minor sports, being a member of the executive committee of the Cooksville Hockey Association.

Dale has worked for the past 14 years in the finance and administration departments of the local and regional governments.

His father, Tom Dale, was involved in politics locally, serving as a school trustee and a councillor for Toronto Township.

Dale is married and has two children.

The candidate said he would be outlining the platform for his campaign within the next few weeks.
