Brave battle

A trust fund to help pay her medical expenses — a trust fund that has seen a great many contributions — the prayers, support, and best wishes of countless people, and even an airplane at her disposal to speed her anywhere on the continent at a moment's notice: Lindsay Eberhardt has got everything except the one thing she absolutely must have.

To keep on living, 2-year-old Lindsay needs a liver transplant; every day she goes without is one day too much.

Lindsay has put up a courageous fight, an inspirational battle; she has set an example for all of us who let the little problems of everyday living drag us down.

Lindsay's battle is a long way from over, but already her life has had a great deal of meaning to everyone who has heard about her.

It is frustrating that we cannot repay Lindsay in any way except by offering her our prayers. But we will do that at least and treasure the shining example this brave child has set for us.
