Mississauga real estate developer Ignat Kaneff recently became a Paul Harris Fellow.

The honor is handed out by the Rotary Club, and Kaneff received his from the Rotary Club of Mississauga (Clarkson).

The fellowship is named after Paul Harris, founder of the international Rotary movement. It honors people for their volunteer and fundraising work in the community.

Past honorees include Mayor Hazel McCallion and Pieter de van der Schueren, a YMCA executive.

The Ontario Division of the Canadian Diabetes Association has kicked off an ambitious fundraising program which the group hopes will reap $1.5 million in profit.

Over 52,000 Dreamstakes Lottery tickets are being sold and there will be 4,777 winners. The odds of a ticket being a winner is better than one in 12, the best odds of any similar lottery.
