

LENYK

Publisher main course at CLM Roast

St. Peet 1810 Lenyk

Ron Lenyk will do anything for a good cause.

This time, the publisher of The Mississauga News will endure an evening of taunts and tongue lashings at the hands of some of his closest friends and colleagues, all in the name of charity.

Lenyk will be the butt of good-natured barbs as the main course on the menu of the annual Community Living Mississauga (CLM) Roast, March 29 at the Delta Meadowvale Inn.

CLM is a volunteer-driven, community-based organization that provides supports and services for individuals with an intellectual handicap.

Lenyk will be roasted — and toasted — as he celebrates his 25th anniversary with The Mississauga News, where he started as a reporter in January 1970.

Since then, he has served as a sports editor and editor-in-chief before being appointed publisher of The Brampton Guardian in 1977. In 1978, he was appointed publisher of The Mississauga News and, in 1980, vice-president of Metroland Printing, Publishing & Distributing.

Lenyk joins a distinguished list of former roastees, including Mississauga South MPP Margaret Marland, Donald Matthews, Doug and Tennys Hanson, Harold Shipp, former police chief William Teggart, former regional chairman Lou Parsons, Mayor Hazel McCallion, former Peel Board of Education director John Fraser, former regional chairman Frank Bean and honorary dinner chairman Ignat Kaneff.

Tickets for the roast are $125 each, GST included. To order tickets, call 275-4705, ext. 600.
