The good news continues for Mississauga-raised actor Simu Liu after it was recently announced he has been nominated for a pair of ACTRA awards.

Liu, who stars in the popular CBC program Kim's Convenience and on the upcoming NBC show Taken, has been nominated in the Outstanding Performance Male category for his role as Paul Xie on the television show Blood and Water. That character has already earned Liu a nomination for Best Performance by an Actor in a Featured Supporting Role in a Dramatic Program or Series category at the Canadian Screen Awards.

The actor also earned a nomination along with his Kim Convenience's castmates for the Series En-
