

The "chefs" were brutal, but everyone in attendance thought the Lou Parsons Roast was well-done. The roast, which featured Lou Parsons, realtor, GO Transit chairman and president of the Mississauga City Board of Trade, attracted 513 hungry people, and raised upwards of $11,000 for the Mississauga Association for the Mentally Retarded. Above, Minister of Housing and Municipal Affairs Claude Bennett is shown adding a little seasoning to the "roast," while below, Carol Parsons applauds the garnishing being applied to her husband by Erindale College principal Paul Fox.
