Shipp, Harold

Hall of Fame honors go to Harold Shipp

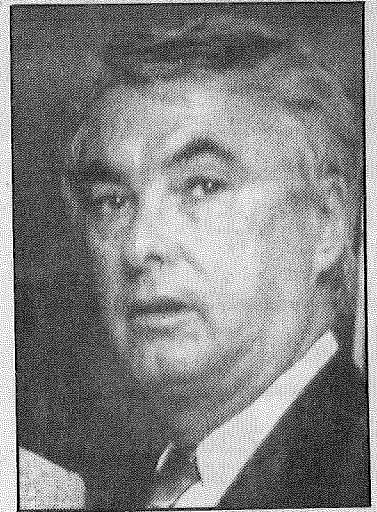

Harold Shipp is batting 1.000. The Mississauga developer and chairman of Shipp Corp. has been inducted into the Builders' Hall of Fame. He was one of eight inductees honored at last week's Canadian Homebuilders' Association 43rd annual conference in Edmonton.

The newly established Builders' Hall of Fame was created to commemorate the 40th anniversary of the Canada Mortgage and Housing Corporation.

About that long ago, Harold Shipp and his father, the late Gordon Shipp, began building in Mississauga. Their claim to fame was the massive single-family housing development known as Applewood Acres. It later catapulted the Shipp family into large office and commercial developments.

Harold Shipp, a former president of the Mississauga City Board of Trade, was also the man behind a local consortium which formed the Trillium Dome Corporation.
