Do you have a baby Olivia or Muhammad? If so, you aren't the only ones in Peel.

Ontario's Ministry of Government and Consumer Services has released the most popular names for babies born in 2019, which shows that Olivia is the No. 1 name for girls and Muhammad, the top for boys in Peel Region.

Muhammad has stayed in the No. 1 spot since 2017, when it was recognized as a popular name.

As for Olivia, that name beat out 2017 top spot, Emma.

Noah is a close second after Muhammad, followed by Adam in the third spot, Jacob in fourth and Ethan ranked as fifth most popular name for baby boys born in Peel Region.

For Peel girls, Emma rounds out the second spot, followed by Mia in third place.

For fourth place there is a tie between Ava and Sophia and in fifth place is Aria.

The top names across Ontario are Liam for boys and Olivia for girls.

According to the Ontario government, Olivia has been a top name since 2010, making it a strong contender for baby girl name of the decade.

More than 8,000 Olivias have been born and registered in Ontario between Jan. 2010 and Dec. 2018.
